

Congratulations...Dionisio

The Nassau Guardian's Junior Male Athlete of the Year

By SHELDON LONGLEY NG Sports Editor slongley@nasguard.com on 12/29/2010

In one of the closest races in the history of this honor, young swimming sensation Dionisio Carey held off emerging baseball star, Trae Sweeting and triple jumper, Lathone

Minns for The Nassau Guardian's Junior Male Athlete of the Year. Carey finished just a point ahead of both Sweeting and Minns, who were tied for second. Carey, who is just 12-years-old, had a phenomenal year representing The Bahamas in swimming. Not since multi national record holder Jeremy Knowles graced the waters as an up-and-coming swimmer, has there been a young Bahamian male with so much promise in the sport. Carey's amazing 13-medal haul, 10 individually, at the CARIFTA Swimming Championships in Kingston, Jamaica this year, earned him a tie for the high point honor at those prestigious regional championships. He finished tied with Trinidad & Tobago's Jabari Baptiste.

Young Carey won four gold medals, four silver medals and five bronze medals at the annual championships. He was a part of two gold medal-winning relay squads and added individual gold medals in the 11-12 Boys 50-meter (m) Back (30.86 seconds), and 50m Fly (29.08 seconds). He won another relay silver, and also claimed individual silver medals in the 50m Breast (34.90 seconds), 100m Back (1:10.67) and the 200m Back (2:33.80).

Carey secured his five bronze medals in the 50m Free (27.61 seconds), 100m Breast (1:19.60), 100m Fly (1:07.32), 200m Breast (2:51.32), and finally, the 200m Fly (2:43.28). He also added a fourth place finish in the 200m Individual Medley (2:33.90), and a fifth place finish in the 200m Free (2:20.65). Needless to say, Carey's performance in the waters in? Jamaica was vital in helping the country finish in third place. With those kind of results, there is no doubt that once he avoids serious injury, he will be a force to reckon with for many years to come.

Go Cuda ...continue to strive for greatness!

Dionisio is the son of Omar and Elva Carey and the brother of DaVante (Tiger Shark).
